

DISCLAIMER

WildBoots organises treks and excursions primarily in the Himalayan mountain ranges. Travel in the remote mountain regions of the Himalayas involves certain inherent risks and dangers, which include but are not limited to, acts of God, danger from natural elements / extreme weather (landslides, cloudbursts, rock-fall, snowfall, etc.), problems arising out of exposure to high altitudes injuries / accidents on account of travel in difficult terrain, which may result in delays, injury, illness or under extreme circumstances, even death.

I am aware that participation in the treks involves such risks and dangers, though all possible measures to ensure my safety have been taken by the organizers. I understand that any such injury or illness may result from my own actions / inactions or negligence or on the part of other participants. I also understand the risks associated with lack of quick emergency response / evacuation facilities and/or medical care in case of any illness or injury.

My participation in the trek is voluntary and that the details provided by me in the Participant Registration Form, are accurate to the best of my knowledge. I declare that I am physically fit to attend the trek and participate in the activities to be conducted as a part of the trek and I have no known medical condition that may hamper my participation in the trek and/or my safety and that of other participants.

I promise to behave responsibly in the natural surroundings and will be accountable for my actions during the trek, taking care to preserve the natural surroundings, cleanliness and general hygiene to the best of my ability.

I shall also abide by the organizer's decisions in case of any inappropriate conduct on my part or in case of any untoward incidents / mishaps that may require changes / delays to the trek program.

Understanding all the risks, dangers and related aspects mentioned above, I waive, release and hold harmless the organizers and all entities, individuals and/or other participants associated with WildBoots from any and all claims, losses, illnesses, injuries, damages related in any way to my participation in the trek.
